

V14 & V13 Cricket Development Tour of Jersey 2011

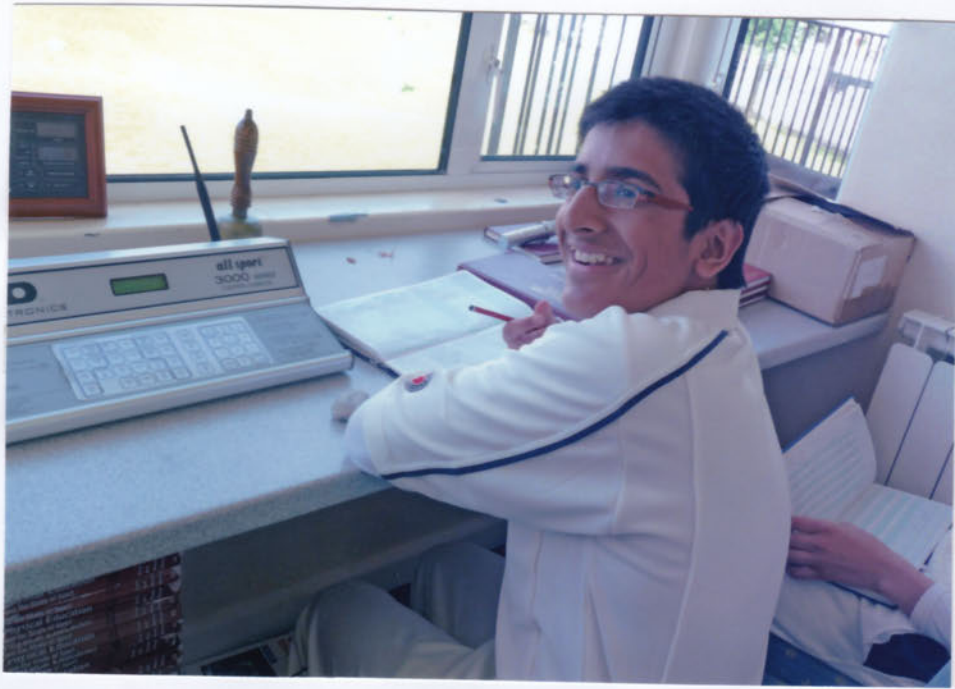

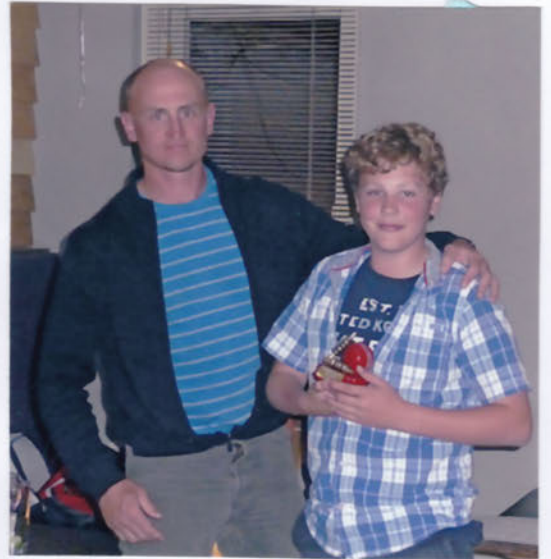

Centurion Highlights for Jersey Cricket Tour

The annual U14/U13 cricket tour to Jersey proved yet again to be a great success in the continuing development of our young cricketers. The dominance of bat over ball proved the key feature in all our matches played and this in itself was very satisfying, as on previous tours our sides had frequently succumbed to the stronger Jersey Island bowling.

This year not so – we batted consistently, coping with, if not always dominating, the opposition bowling. Their concentration and maturity enabled our batsmen to build an innings appropriate to conditions and state of play in the match, keeping us in contention at all times. They adapted well this year to the longer - and quirky 'split-overs' – format of the game, which allowed individuals more time at the crease and properly tested their powers of concentration and mental endurance.

It was therefore very gratifying to watch two of our boys bat their way to centuries.

For the U13s, Jack Tyrer posted 117 not out, sharing in an opening stand of 131 with Ben Stratford (37) to set up a comfortable 161 run victory in their first match against De La Salle.

For the U14s, Henry Day's 118. Batting in a third wicket stand of 175 runs with Harry Schofield (68 not out), and requiring almost 11 an over when they came together at 41-2, the two chased down Victoria College's 237 in an exciting finale that left both scores level when the umpires called time and drew stumps.

And just to prove that the bat did not always totally dominate the ball, Sam North's devastating spell of 3 overs, 1 maiden, 5 wickets for 9 runs ripped the top off the De La Salle batting card in the U13's opening fixture.

The U14s carried the excitement into their second game with another close finish. On a turning wicket they restrained De La Salle to 133 for 6 but struggled themselves as the ball continued to turn sharply and it again fell to Henry Day (69 not out) ably supported by the dogged resistance of Chris Bell (5 not out) in a last wicket stand to steer us home with just one ball to spare.

In their second game the U13s took on a very strong Victoria side who won the toss and made the most of the warm conditions and excellent batting surface. They declared on 257 for 9 – setting a big challenge of more than 7 runs per over. The young Richians of the U13s however showed their character, making a spirited reply to close at 207 for 6, which might have been a lot closer if it wasn't for a silly run out and a couple of excellent boundary catches.

In the third round of matches against Jersey Island XIs, both U13s & U14s bowled and fielded well to restrict their counterparts to modest totals, but just couldn't work away the equally tight bowling and penetrate the excellent fielding of their hosts to overhaul their respective targets, falling short by 9 runs and 23 runs respectively.

Yet again the Jersey Cricket Development Tour proved to be a great experience for all those in both of the squads and it has really advanced not only the boys' individual cricketing skills but also (and perhaps more importantly at this stage) their whole approach to and understanding of the game. It has certainly engendered a fantastic team spirit and strength of character within the U13 side and we look to their future successes with great anticipation.

Finally a couple of special thanks must go to Mr Doug Ferguson of the Jersey Island Cricket Association who is our main contact and organiser of fixtures and practice facilities; also to Mr & Mrs Anderson, who welcomed us back to their comfortable and friendly hotel, The Mornington, and looked after us so royally.

World Record-Breaking Centurion hands out Cricketing Awards at Rich's!

The school year closed on a high at Sir Thomas Rich's when Ireland's record-breaking centurion Kevin O'Brien handed out awards to some of Rich's very own centurions at the end-of-year assembly. Not only were there several century partnerships to celebrate but also three individual century-makers: Henry Day (118 for U14XI against Victoria College Jersey), Jack Tyrer (117no for U13XI against De La Salle Jersey) and Elijah Samuel (102no for U12XI against Whitecross). Henry Day's 118 against Victoria College was the backbone of a spirited and almost successful reply as the match ended in a great deal of excitement - and a little confusion - with both scores tied on 237. Henry shared a third wicket stand of 195 runs with Harry Schofield (62no) as they came so close to posting the school's first ever Jersey tour win over Victoria College.

Our picture shows Kevin with the Rich's centurions inspecting the 'Condick' bat which records all special cricketing achievements by the school's young cricketers.

Kevin O'Brien, wrote his name into Irish cricketing lore with a magical innings against England on a balmy March evening in Bangalore. Entering the fray with his team in a perilous position chasing a mountainous 327, he smashed a 50-ball century - the fastest in World Cup history - to set up a historic three-wicket win.

Congratulations to Rich's Centurions

U12s Cricket - A Season of Success!

The U12 teams performed well in all fixtures and within the “B” squad in particular everyone showed great improvement in their individual and team playing abilities, with three boys making regular selection for the “A” team.

The highlight of the season has to be winning the County Cup – the “A” team cruising through all the preliminary rounds, before completing a surprisingly comfortable 61 run victory in the final against a fancied Newent side.

Not to be outdone the “B” team had its own share of success as well, as they reached the final of the Rotarians City Cup competition. They fell to Crypt by 40 runs in an entertaining and well-supported match that should have been much closer but for a couple of vital catches being spilled and the umpires’ depreciative interpretation of the ‘No Ball’ law rescuing one of the key Crypt batsmen.

This achievement is all the more praise-worthy and justification of our cricket development policy of entering the “B” teams into the local City Cup, even though our boys find themselves playing the “A” teams from other Gloucester schools - it gets many more boys playing cricket and experiencing match situations, which is far more important than the amount of silverware in the school trophy cabinet.

Of individual performances, this report must highlight the prowess of Elijah Samuel – a very talented young batsman who in seven innings posted four fifties and a century at an average of 201 – yes 201. One man a team does not make and we are very fortunate to have three other quality batsmen in Matt Cox, Adam Robson and Joel Price, who ensured that we always posted large totals or chased down targets with minimal loss of wickets.

Good batting prevents defeat but it is in the field where games are won (or lost) and the “A” team certainly had the bowlers to enforce victory. Aply mixed and marshalled by skipper Matt Cox, Sam Tickle, Matt Munden and Henry Peach shared the opening stints and frequently opposition sides found themselves 3 or 4 wickets down in as many overs, usually for as many runs, with no hope of recovery.

Winning the County Cup gives us entry to the regional competition next year – a golden opportunity to compete at national level and measure our progress and worth there.

Finally a special note of thanks to Mr Lloyd, who has worked hard encouraging the boys of the “B” team squad, converting their boundless enthusiasm into decent cricketing skills, structure and awareness.

For the neutral a play off is a game to be enjoyed for its drama and passion, I'll let you know what its like for a non neutral in about 3 hours! Although we should all be qualified to give our opinion then as I don't think there will be many neutrals in the ground today!

With professional rugby comes the need to put 'bums on seats' and that word 'entertainment' gets mentioned. Having played at Welford Road, where a driving maul gets applauded like a text book cover drive at Lords, our own views on 'entertainment' are often very unique. In their wisdom, the RFU have opted for the play off system and in my view it has added to our game.

Rugby union has always relied on passion to stir the emotions of its watching faithful, a game without passion is often high scoring but seldom one to remember. Worcester's recent tussles with Cornish Pirates provided us with two great games, both full of passion and desire. Worcester's excellence and strength in depth proved too strong for the gutsy Pirates in the end. Last weekend saw the East Midlands derby offer up a real spectacle. Mr Tuilaga aside, the game was ferocious and gripping for any spectator, whether neutral or not.

Dave Morris and his Loughborough team are to be congratulated on a great season. 30 league games is a huge effort and they have shown throughout the season that they deserve to be here. We understand the test that will lie ahead of us today and our lads have worked incredibly hard all year in order to achieve our original goal.

Enjoy the game, get behind your lads and lets hear that support.

Ben Harvey
